Chapter 1

*For years I sent out research.
To physicists, to universities, to research institutes.*

Research in physics, medicine and Mind-Matter Interface. I tried to set up deals in aerospace. Mining. Power generation. But every single venture I tried to set up was blocked.

I have been unemployed for years. Broke for years. Through no fault of my own.

I had a run of bad luck. I owe everybody money.

But it did make me resourceful

Very, very resourceful. My greatest work in physics I did when I was at my most broke. My greatest breakthroughs in aerospace when I had no resources.

I'm used to working with nothing. I'm used to achieving a big result with next to no resources. My experience has been difficult.

But it has made me MacGyver.
