Chapter 1

*Every day I wake up, my body broken.
Screaming in my head.*

It is to do with the screaming in my head.

I am used to it as Ciarán. Flashbacks. Memories of war. Of being tortured by the Borg. Of being raped. Of injury. Of having to learn to walk again. Of having to learn to speak again. Of my life having been destroyed. Of the carnage I have seen in the Matrix caused by the Borg. I suppress it, but at some level the screaming in my head never stops.
